

UNLOCK THE UNTAPPED POTENTIAL OF YOUR LEADERS AND MANAGERS

Managing for High Performance (MHP)

In today's highly competitive business environment, companies are continuously challenged to develop their organisational capabilities for sustained levels of high performance.

This can only be achieved by developing leaders who are capable of achieving continuously improving levels of performance from their teams.

THE MANAGING FOR HIGH PERFORMANCE (MHP) COURSE IS THE KEY TO ACHIEVING THIS.

The MHP course provides a proven learning and development methodology that will enable supervisors and managers who are already doing a good job to do an even better job. They will see improvements in their own performance and their team's performance in the following areas:

- Team leading and planning skills
- Project management skills
- Creating a cohesive, high performance team with increased productivity
- Better management and measurement of performance

Don't just take our word for it, here is what some of LMA's participants have said about the MHP course:

"I have learnt lots of skills and tools that I can share and utilise in the team. Hopefully, my passion and focus on achieving goals can be shared and cascade to other team members."

Jin Zhu, CPS Credit Union.

Empowered people. Better results.

SHARING EXPERIENCES AND SUPPORTING EACH OTHER THROUGH THE COURSE

"The whole course was fantastic and it is great to share with other people that face the same issues in their roles that you do in yours, sharing both highs and lows with people in other roles. Having support from other course participants, plus the course facilitator, manager/mentor, and the course coach is a great way of getting through the course and making it relevant to you."

Melissa Marshall, Supply Direct.

OFF SITE LEARNING IS KEY

"I found the first part of the course, which was completed off site, to be very beneficial. It was good to be able to interact with different people with vastly different experiences. I found that this really added to my learnings taken away from the course."

Lucy Claridge, XChanging.

"The course has allowed me to review my 30+ years within the transport industry and recognise the good things I have learnt and recognise the things I need to change to be a successful manager."

Ian Malane, Pentagon Freight Services.

STEP BACK AND LOOK AT YOURSELF AS A LEADER

"I found the course to be motivating and provided me the tools and skills to become a better leader. It focuses on communication which is a huge part of leadership and creating the right environment to stimulate motivation and continuous improvement. The course enabled me to step back and look at myself as a leader and my interaction with the team."

Darren Marshall, Monduluce (Aust).

GREATER CONFIDENCE AND LESS WORK INCIDENTS

"My confidence has improved in my approach to people, public speaking, to travelling & training. My presence in the field is having a great impact on lowering incidents & injuries.

I am helping the Supervisors achieve their targets from mentoring/coaching them."

Leanne Stark, Boom Logistics.

VARIED AND RELEVANT CONTENT

"There is masses of information available currently on business and maximising one's potential. The opportunity lies not with the content but with the time taken to absorb the information and to really understand how it can be helpful to oneself. The content was varied and eternally relevant and there were various chunks in it that have been useful both as new concepts and as timely reminders of old concepts."

Mike Churchman, Sunnyfield Independent.
